

Floridians,

I recently wrote a letter to the President of In-N-Out Burger when I heard news that the state of California shut down the iconic burger chain after they refused to act as vaccine police. I grew up in a family-owned restaurant and I know how hard it is to be successful on a good day, let alone when your government is working to crush your business with absurd mandates. As Florida's CFO, I have been consistent – I'm pro-vaccine by anti-mandate. I'm extremely impressed by In-N-Out's courage to oppose this government overreach and I hope this story inspires other business owners across the country to do the same.

In Florida, we love our business owners, entrepreneurs and job creators and I can assure you this would NEVER happen here. Florida is free. We're against mandates and I have no doubt that In-N-Out would succeed here. My message to In-N-Out Burger is "Florida is for Winners" and I'd be happy to show you how you can win here in the Sunshine State.

Join the DFS Team as an Insurance Examiners! APPLY NOW

The Florida Department of Financial Services is looking for qualified insurance examiners to join the DFS Team in Miami, Largo, Orlando, and Tallahassee. Visit our Career Opportunities homepage to learn more and apply today!

Sincerely,

Jimmy Patronis
Chief Financial Officer
State of Florida

Stay Connected

Increase Text Size

Jimmy Patronis
@JimmyPatronis

Look if California doesn't like In-N-Out Burger, and In-N-Out Burger doesn't like California, then when when do I need to schedule the U-Haul truck for the burger chain's inevitable move to Florida? #FlaPol floridapolitics.com

Jimmy Patronis urges In-N-Out to come to Florida: 'I hope your story inspires' o...
The burger chain is fed-up with public health mandates.

9:01 AM · Oct 23, 2021 · Twitter for iPhone

199 Retweets 11 Quote Tweets 1,616 Likes