

Jonathan R. Satter

Florida Blockchain Task Force Member

Jonathan R. Satter was appointed as Secretary of the Florida Department of Management Services (DMS) by Governor Ron DeSantis in 2019. DMS, through a team of 1,000+, and an $800 million budget, is the business and workforce arm of Florida government. The Department's primary mission is to support sister agencies as well as current and former state employees with workforce and business-related functions. DMS provides services to state government, state universities, counties, local municipalities, and independent taxing districts throughout Florida.

Prior to his appointment as Secretary, Jonathan spent 28 years in the banking, commercial real estate and logistics industries. With his recent appointment by Governor DeSantis, he has served the State of Florida in various capacities under four governors. In addition to a wide variety of community and business activities, he currently serves as Vice Chairman of The Michelle McGann Fund, a charity focused on juvenile diabetes founded by his wife Michelle McGann, and as a Board Member of Rendina, a national health care real estate services development firm.

Secretary Satter received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Rollins College and a Master of Business Administration degree from Nova University.
