Discussing Hurricane Preparedness on PalmCast

I had the pleasure of joining host Jordan Mauro on PalmCast, the Florida Surplus Lines Service Office's (FSLSO) podcast. On the episode, we discuss hurricane preparedness and my initiative - Plan Prepare Protect: Are You Disaster Ready?

We've already seen the 25th named storm – Hurricane Delta - and are on record pace to hit an all-time high number of storms in a hurricane season. To say that this hurricane season has been active is an understatement. And as we saw with Hurricane Sally, a storm's track and severity can change in an instant.

Cautious reminder – always be prepared for a storm.
