Gift Givers Guide 2021

With all the excitement of the holiday season, we don't always think about potential disasters and emergencies. However, the next incident could be right around the corner. In the last 30 years, there have been five storms that formed in December. We also know that, unfortunately, a fire or power outage can occur at any time. We must always stay alert and prepared.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

As the holidays quickly approach, consider gifts that assist with insurance or disaster preparation needs. Think outside the box when it comes to gift giving this holiday season - for example, gifts that help with organizing, offer peace to your family or power your home following a disaster.

Here are a few holiday gift giving ideas:

Give your family the gift of protection and peace by purchasing life insurance coverage.

Speak with an insurance agent to determine the right amount to cover your last expenses and to make up the difference in loss of income.

Do you have a generator to power lifesaving medical equipment or to ensure you're comfortable during a power outage?

Following a disaster, a generator can make a difference in being able to stay at your home or having to relocate.

A water and fireproof container for important documents is a must-have during a disaster.

Place insurance and medical information in the container and take it with you if you must evacuate.

While these are just a few gifts, there are many others that can help your friends and family be prepared for a disaster or emergency. Any ideas?
Happy shopping!
