

ANNOUNCES THE RETIREMENT OF:

Distributed Computer Systems Consultant Darla Bradley

We are pleased to announce the retirement of Distributed Computer Systems Consultant Darla Bradley. Darla began her career working for the Division of State Fire Marshal, and later with the Division of Investigative and Forensic Services in 2007.

During her tenure at DFS, Darla has been the primary administrator for the Bureau of Fire, Arson and Explosives ACISS and SmartCOP programs. Darla was instrumental in the merging of the ACISS reporting system from a dos-based system into the current merged reporting system and the integration of the Bureau of Fire, Arson and Explosives into the SmartCOP platform with other state agencies.

In addition to these functions, Darla has provided countless hours of service to maintaining the agency's hardware and software inventory. She has been a key person in the DIFS Tech Support Office.

Darla has always been customer service oriented and has demonstrated this by ensuring personnel had access at any time of the day. Her pride in keeping the IT systems available, as well as operational, is very evident in the Division's continued success. Her ability to do this was built through her desire to develop and maintain both internal and external relationships.

Darla has always been very active in bowling, traveling to the beach and visiting Canada. Now she will have time to do more with all three.

Darla, thank you so much for your willingness to serve the Department for the last fourteen years. The friendships you have built and the people you have served are truly a testimony to who you are. You will be dearly missed!

DIFS thanks Darla for her dedication, service, and effort in the fight against fire and arson.
