Government Benefit Programs

The Social Security Administration can help you if you are eligible.

Cash Assistance

- Supplemental Security Income – This program can provide you with cash assistance if you have limited income.

- Social Security Disability Insurance – You can receive these benefits if you or certain members of your family are "insured." This means that you have worked long enough and paid social security taxes to get these benefits.

You may be able to receive assistance from both programs. Contact the Social Security Administration directly to ask questions and get the help that you need.

Healthcare

- Medicaid – If you receive Supplemental Security Income and you have a disability, you are eligible for Medicaid. In Florida, Medicaid applications can be completed with the Department of Children and Families.

- Medicare – This program is for people who receive Social Security Disability Insurance and allows you to pick the type of healthcare that you need.

You may be able to receive support from both programs. Contact each program directly to get the help that you need.
