Floridians,

Today, on September 11 we stop to remember the lives tragically lost on this day 19 years ago. That may seem like a long time ago to you and I, but not to the families who lost someone special to them that fateful day.

CFO & State Fire Marshal Jimmy Patronis message on the Anniversary of 9/11

I'm reminded today that what our brave firefighters do is not just a job, but a calling, and I'm grateful for the sacrifices they make and that they wake up every day ready to answer that call. As we're all enduring challenging times related to COVID-19, please remember to keep our firefighters and first responders in your prayers and thank them for their service. Our great country and the world was forever changed on September 11th, 2001 and we will never forget the lives lost, the lives saved, and bravery of our first responders. God bless you all.

Sincerely,

Jimmy Patronis
Chief Financial Officer
State of Florida

Thank you @realDonaldTrump for protecting Florida's natural treasurers from drilling. Our oceans are a major driver for economic activity & are worth protecting at all costs. Today is a historic day & we're grateful for your support of the Sunshine State! #FlaPol
